SPRING PROGRAM GUIDE

Welcome to the WRUW 91.1 FM Program Guide, Spring 1993 edition. In this four page insert you will find our spring schedule, descriptions of our public affairs shows, and the "Traveler's Guide to WRUW," a cross-listing of shows and their musical formats. Instant, easy access to truly alternative radio is now yours!

Great, but what is WRUW? Why haven't you heard of it before? WRUW is one of those "college radio stations," down there in the forbidden zone of radio below 92 MHz. We're the kind of station you won't hear them mention in the PeeDee. We don't exist for the sole purpose of airing a lot of beer commercials. What we are about is music- all different kinds of music.

If you're tired of the same old commercial drone, tune that dial down to 91.1. On WRUW you'll find things commercial radio wouldn't touch with a ten-foot cattle prod: atonal music, avant-garde jazz, non-classic rock, international music, freeform and the unclassified. . . Our goal is to provide Cleveland with music not heard elsewhere- if you wanted classic rock, you'd tune in WNCX anyway. It's that uncharted region around commercial radio that we like to explore.

From the schedule for this spring, you can see our commitment to diversity. In one eight hour segment you can hear shows featuring classical, industrial, 80s retro, polka, and folk music. We don't have a preset format- each person decides what to air on their own program. This gives WRUW a range of music as varied as the individuals who work there.

We're not out for an audience share, we're not out to prove that we have the best music in town- what we do is air what we think is good and leave it for the listener to decide. If you like to think about what you listen to, if you want a change, try WRUW 91.1 FM. There's plenty of variety- if you don't like what you hear when you tune in, try tuning in at another time. Use the schedule page to help you select shows that look interesting to you, and try them out!

WRUW-FM is the campus radio station of Case Western Reserve University. We broadcast at 91.1 MHz, at a power of 1000 watts. The transmitter is located on Superior road, so reception on the west side is going to be rather fuzzy. Our studios are located at 11220 Bellflower, Cleveland 44106. Our office line is 368-2207, and the request line is 368-2208. We'd love to hear your comments, write or call us!

If you like what you hear on WRUW, or you don't like what you hear and still are intrigued by alternative radio, you might like to try the other college stations in town. They are 88.7 WUJC from John Carroll University, 89.3 WCSB from Cleveland State, and 91.5 WOBC from Oberlin College (if you live out that way).

Yours in Radio,

Benjamin Winter, General Manager
